END OF THE ROAD FOR FREE PARKING IN TOWN CENTRE

Report by Tom Martin

PARKING charges in Ormskirk will be reintroduced from next month.

West Lancashire Borough Council has taken a decision to bring back fees from Monday, October 5 after they were scrapped in March.

Since lockdown ended and businesses were allowed to reopen, the town centre has gradually become busier with more vehicles using the council-run car parks.

The decision, says the council, has been made partly because of 'day parkers' who abuse the free parking scheme to leave their cars and then get the train into Liverpool!

The charges reintroduced remain at just £1 for three hours. All pay machine keypads would be wiped down hourly by council staff, with drivers also advised to sanitise both before and after use.

Cllr Dave Evans, Portfolio Holder for Planning at West Lancs Council, said: "Following an ongoing review of the effect of free parking on Ormskirk town centre, it is clear charges must be reintroduced to encourage more shopping custom and eliminate those who have been using the car parks

'Reintroduction of fees will draw more custom to borough' says council, after claims 'day parkers' have abused the scheme for all day free parking. It has been found that some residents have parked up for the day getting the train to Liverpool, which is no benefit to Ormskirk or West Lancashire whatsoever.

"Even a small minority of market traders were parking up for the day depriving their fellow traders and even themselves of much needed custom as residents return to shopping.

"Town centre business and many market traders have raised these concerns with me calling for the reintroduction of charges to draw more customers in. With the return of Edge Hill University students in the coming weeks, this is certainly the correct decision to ensure that the town centre car parks are not abused by all day parkers and we can support our local businesses, economy and jobs."

West Lancs MP 'rejects' proposal to establish combined authority

THE creation of a combined authority and the dismantling of West Lancashire Borough Council has edged closer after detailed plans were sent to the government.

The leader of Lancashire County Council, Geoff Driver, has written to the Secretary of State for Housing, Communities and Local Government, to provide further information about a proposal to restructure local government in Lancashire.

However, it comes in the same week that West Lancs MP Rosie Cooper said she wouldn't support the idea after voicing her concerns that Ormskirk and Skelmersdale residents "could be left behind." This is echoed by West Lancs Borough Council Leader Ian Moran, who has previously said he has doubts "whether it will help West Lancs residents or the businesses."

Under the plan, the 131-year-old county council would itself be abolished, along with all 12 district authorities and the two standalone councils in Blackpool and Blackburn with Darwen. Turn to p5

Fabric used to make scrubs for NHS staff is transformed into stunning quilt display

By Danielle Thompson

FABRIC used by volunteers to create scrubs for Southport and Ormskirk NHS Trust during the coronavirus pandemic has been made into a commemorative quilt and put on display.

Volunteers in the Southport and Ormskirk branch of 'For The Love of Scrubs - Our NHS Needs You' created an incredible 3,000 sets of scrubs for staff at the Trust to use during the global pandemic.

A quilt which aims to 'represent their experiences of COVID-19' is on display at the Atkinson, in Southport, until Saturday, October 24.

Angie Frith, who created the local branch of 'For The Love of Scrubs - Our NHS Needs You' said: "In the first week there was a huge scramble for fabric and patterns. The numbers of volunteers kept increasing and the logistics became an issue so keeping within the government's guidelines, the areas were split to local coordinators Susanne Hartley in Banks, Angela Hollywood, in Ormskirk and Lyndsey McKay in Formby.

"Funds kept arriving and the average cost of producing a set of scrubs was £8. When a fabulous tailor, Chris Appleton from Ormskirk offered his help, we then sourced hundreds of metres of fabric and Chris was cutting out 100 kits a day doubling our production and increasing our ability to get other volunteers involved.

"Re-designing the kit based on feedback resulted in trousers having no pockets, sleeves already set in and the kits pre-cut which allowed all skill levels to help. Not all members of the group had sewing skills but were happy to act as drivers distributing kits and collecting donations, using our delivery kits.

"Let's Go Southport U3A Jackie Carter and the church groups have been a huge help with the supply of alternative fabric. Bren Riley from the Southport Comedy hub has supported and promoted us throughout.

"To date we have filled 112 orders, more than £3,580 has been spent on fabric, that's more than 447 sets, and over 364 members have, in some way, come together for this fantastic community effort.

"Not only scrubs - headbands, mask extenders and laundry bags have been made by this amazing group of people and advice, guidance, and support for each other is flowing between them, from the youngest to the oldest. The scheme has turned into family projects with husbands cutting out, children finding ideas and sewing - all with one common goal to support our NHS."

Two men arrested on suspicion of murder after man shot in leg

TWO men have been arrested on suspicion of attempted murder after a man was shot in the leg in Skelmersdale.

Lancashire Constabulary officers were called at around 9.30pm on Sunday, September 6 to reports that a gunshot had been heard in the Ennerdale area. Emergency services attended and a man, aged in his 20s, was found at a nearby address with a wound to his leg which is believed to have come from a shotgun. He was taken to hospital for treatment and his injuries are not thought to be life-threatening.

On Tuesday, September 8, detectives arrested a 20-year-old and a 36-year-old, both from Skelmersdale.

The police are continuing to appeal for information and are asking anybody who witnessed the incident or knows who may be responsible to get in touch as soon as possible.

DCI Zoe Russo, of Lancashire's Force Major Investigation Team, said: "We appreciate this will have caused concern in the community but we would like to reassure people that our investigation is very much ongoing."

"Although we have arrested two people, we are continuing to ask anybody with information about the incident to get in touch with us as soon as possible. Perhaps you were in the area and saw all or part of what happened, or perhaps you have heard something and believe you know who may be responsible."

"Whatever information you have we would urge you to get in touch with us."

Anybody with information is asked to call Skelmersdale Police on 101, quoting log number 1589. Alternatively call Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Virgin Care hits back at NHS 'privatisation' claims in West Lancs

Report by Tom Martin

VIRGIN Care have moved to deny accusations they are "taking over parts of the NHS" in West Lancashire following concerns raised by Champion readers.

In one letter criticising Richard Branson's health group 'Privatisation creeping in' Judy Ingham, from Aughton, claimed: "Virgin Care, as we know, has been creeping into West Lancashire, taking over parts of the NHS."

"So many of us came out on Thursday nights to clap showing our appreciation for our NHS and care workers and I do hope we can all be as vociferous to make sure we do not allow our NHS to be taken over and privatised." In response, Michelle Lee, the Managing Director of Virgin Care in Lancashire, said: "The urgent care and adult community services that we run in West Lancashire are NHS services delivered on behalf of NHS West Lancashire CCG."

Michelle Lee from Virgin Care

Health group claim boss, Richard Branson, 'does not seek to make a penny from the NHS...'

"We bid for this contract alongside other suppliers as part of the CCG's procurement process and our performance is very strictly monitored by our commissioners."

Investment

"Since we started delivering these services in 2017, we have made a number of improvements to services, most recently gaining two 'good' ratings from the Care Quality Commission for our work at West Lancashire Urgent Treatment Centre and Skelmersdale Walk in Centre."

"Virgin Care has never made a profit and the Virgin Group has actually invested around £75 million across the UK in our organisation in people and technology, supporting doctors, nurses and allied health care professionals in their jobs and in transforming services."

"In addition, Richard Branson has pledged that if we do make any future profit over that investment, he will not draw a dividend - as he does not seek to make a penny from the NHS - and that any profit will be re-invested

A face mask painted onto a Merseyrail train

Merseyrail trains get face masks!

MERSEYRAIL has gone the extra mile to remind commuters of Covid-19 rules after painting face masks on their trains!

The face coverings, which can be seen on five trains across the network, are to reinforce the rule of wearing them on public transport.

Suzanne Grant, Commercial Director at Merseyrail, said: "The safety of our passengers and our staff has been our top priority during this pandemic and the wearing of face coverings is a major part of this."

"We have been reminding our passengers about the new rules for a number of months now and we wanted to reinforce this message in a more visible and unique way."

Calls are made to extend furlough to help pubs and bars

CALLS are being made to extend the furlough scheme for staff working in the hospitality industry.

Since March, the Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme has paid 80% of the wages of workers placed on leave across the country, up to a maximum of £2,500 a month.

The government and Chancellor Rishi Sunak has repeatedly ruled out an extension of the furlough payments, claiming it can't "carry on indefinitely".

Cllr John Fillis, Deputy Leader of the Lancashire Labour Group said: "We've seen too many pubs disappear from our high streets over across Lancashire so the ones that remain deserve support to stay open. Pubs and bars are part of our community and bring people together. Losing even more would be terrible news for jobs and business owners."

"Extending the furlough scheme for the hospitality sector would protect jobs and give businesses the breathing space to get back on track in this difficult time."

It comes after figures show how 20 pubs in West Lancashire have closed since 2010.

Campaigners say the end of furlough will "accelerate job losses" and risk even more pubs and bars closing down.

The British Beer and Pub Association warned in August that over one third of pubs (37%) could not break even in their first month of reopening, whilst one in four pub and breweries said they didn't think their business was sustainable past March 2021.

NHS Trust allay fears Children's A&E will be permanently closed overnight

'It was and remains temporary measure'

HEALTH chiefs at Southport and Ormskirk NHS Trust say the children's accident and emergency department at Ormskirk Hospital will NOT be permanently closed overnight - saying the move 'was and remains' a temporary measure.

Children's A&E at the Ormskirk site has been shut between 10pm and 8am daily from Monday, April 6, with patients attending Alder Hey Children's Hospital in Liverpool, which is roughly an 18 mile drive from Ormskirk Hospital.

Trish Armstrong-Child, Chief Executive of the Southport and Ormskirk NHS Trust, said: "This difficult decision was taken because the Trust could not maintain safe and consistent emergency medical cover overnight while the focus of our staff was on Covid-19."

"It was and remains a temporary closure taken on the advice of the Trust's senior doctors. Although the number of Covid cases has fallen, the effects of the virus continue to disrupt the work of our hospitals. We also need to be able to respond quickly to any increase in Covid cases."

"I have assured MP Rosie Cooper that the information provided to her office is incorrect."

"The Trust keeps the temporary closure of the department under constant review with the support of NHS partners. An option we are currently exploring is to potentially extend the opening hours."

West Lancashire MP Rosie Cooper contacted the Champion earlier this week to say that she was 'shocked and dismayed' by what she had heard regarding possible permanent closure, but the Trust has now moved to quell those fears.

Edge Hill gets the nod for University of the Year nomination

Report by Danielle Thompson

EDGE Hill University has been shortlisted for the coveted title of University of the Year in the Times Higher Education (THE) Awards – the ‘Oscars’ of the education world.

After first scooping the much sought-after title in 2014, the Ormskirk university is again in the running for the most prestigious accolade in the higher education sector.

In other categories, the university’s teams have also been shortlisted for Outstanding Support for Students and Outstanding Library Team.

The awards recognise outstanding work across a wide range of activity, reflecting the reality of how a university operates, and the interwoven nature of so much of what universities do.

This latest announcement comes hot on the heels of Edge Hill being one of only two universities in the running for the Educate North Awards for University of the Year.

Dr John Cater, Vice-Chancellor of Edge Hill University, said: “I’m so proud that Edge Hill has once again been shortlisted for the prestigious Times Higher Education University of the Year award, recognising our exceptional performance in the past academic year.

“It’s a title that we first held in 2014 and to be in the running again shows that we are a university that continues to improve.

“I am delighted that we have been shortlisted for Outstanding Support for Students and Outstanding Library Team too. Congratulations to all involved.

Edge Hill University

“I’m sure that the judges will find much to impress: our TEF gold status for our consistently outstanding teaching and learning; outcomes of our students; the growth in research activity; and, our continuing investment in facilities and the student experience – with a £300m investment testimony to this commitment.

“Most recently, the opening of our new Medical School will provide training and support for the NHS in the North West and supply the doctors of our future.”

Hundreds of nominations for outstanding institutions, departments and individuals were submitted across categories covering the full range of university activity.

The winner will be revealed during a virtual celebration on Thursday, November 26.

Proposal to merge borough with Preston fails to get support of MP

The county would be carved up into three 'unitary' councils covering central and southern parts of the county (Preston, South Ribble, Chorley and West Lancashire), a broad western and northern area (Blackpool, Wyre, Fylde, Lancaster and Ribblesdale) and the east (Blackburn with Darwen, Burnley, Rossendale, Hyndburn and Pendle).

The new combined authority would then come with an elected mayor, and Cllr Driver believes it represents a 'once-in-a-generation' chance to transform the county.

The idea was initially submitted to the Government in July, and since then work has taken place on the strategic case to provide more information about the proposal.

Cllr Driver is now requesting that Government officials enter into a dialogue about the plans at the earliest opportunity so a partnership can be created to develop and consult with all stakeholders on a full business case and timetable for implementation.

Cllr Driver said: "I remain firmly of the view that to deliver on our ambitious recovery and levelling up plans, we need to transition to a three unitary and Mayoral Combined Authority model, replacing our complex arrangement of fifteen councils.

Ambitions

"Closer working will allow for a coherent and strategic focus on delivering our significant ambitions.

"The proposal also guards against fragmentation in key service areas such as Children's and Adult Services."

MP Cooper said she has written to the Local Government Secretary Robert Jenrick to express her concern. She said: "I agree that the current structure of local government here in Lancashire and West Lancashire is most certainly underperforming and failing my West Lancashire constituents, so I absolutely support the view that some reorganisation is necessary, but this can not and must not be at the expense of local decision making, local views and local services.

"Any local government reorganisation for West Lancashire which would lead to any joining or merging with Preston would not have my support or that of my West Lancashire constituents, indeed it has my outright objection.

"Leaders of West Lancashire, Chorley and South Ribble have written to the Secretary of State stating their intention to support work to develop a business case on this footprint, this is something I could consider more positively as I would the inclusion of Southport in a future plan."

Free parking to end

However, Our West Lancashire is against the reintroduction of parking charges and believe it should continue to be free to help local businesses.

OWL Chairman, Cllr Adrian Owens said: "Parking charges are now required for all-day and long-stay parking for the reasons the council describe; namely to ensure there are enough parking spaces for shoppers and visitors.

"However, the town's retailers are only just getting back on their feet. Free car parking has helped to achieve that blossoming recovery. Indeed, several town traders have told us how their customers have been delighted with the free parking.

"The council's own figures show that visitor numbers in Ormskirk are recovering faster than other towns that charge for car parking but they are still down more than 8% on the same month last year. To stifle that local recovery before it really gets going makes no sense and we are calling on the council for a partial rethink.

"People shopping for two hours in the other towns in the borough can do so for free. At this time especially, Ormskirk should not be treated differently.

"Go ahead with parking charges for all-day and long-stay parking, for one or two hour stays keep parking free of charge until at least the end of this year."

'Rule of six' comes into force to curb coronavirus spike

WEST Lancashire residents are being told to follow the new 'rule of six' law that came into force on Monday.

As of September 14, social gatherings of more than six people are banned both indoors and outdoors in an effort to curb recent spikes in coronavirus cases.

It means getting together in private homes, venues like pubs and restaurants, and in outdoor spaces like parks will all be affected.

The 'rule of six' also includes children in England, which has caused debate because similar rules in Wales and Scotland do not include children under 11 and 12 respectively.

Pubs, restaurants, shops and other venues will remain open, but people can only attend in groups of up to six.

Venues should also allow for social distancing between groups. Similarly, places of worship may remain open but with a limit of six people attending per group.

Some gatherings of more than six people will be allowed in England, for example for work or education purposes, weddings and funerals as well as team sports.

The new measures will mean groups larger than six can be broken up by police.

Members of the group can be fined if they fail to follow the rules. This will be £100 for a first offence, doubling on each further offence up to £3,200.

Those with symptoms told to get a test...if you can find one!

RESIDENTS have been urged to 'get tested if you develop Covid-19 symptoms' - a week after MP Rosie Cooper hit out at the Government for a lack of tests in the borough.

The Champion reported how some residents who dialled 119 to ask for a home testing kit were advised to drive as far as St Helens or Manchester to use a 'test site'.

West Lancs Borough Council are still urging anyone with coronavirus symptoms to still try to get a test.

Councillor Ian Moran, Leader of West Lancashire Borough Council: "There are a lot of myths about coronavirus, for example that it only affects older people, while some may think that because they don't know anyone who has had the risk isn't so great.

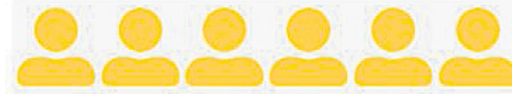

"But coronavirus is a very real risk to our communities and can affect people of all ages. Please play your part and get a test if you have symptoms."

If you have symptoms you can book with the mobile testing unit at West Lancashire College on Saturday, September 19 from 10.30am-3.30pm. To book visit www.nhs.uk. You must book in advance in order to get a test - and you will only be able to book from the previous evening.

Alternatively dial 119 if you can't attend a testing unit.

£80k fund to reduce reoffending in county

LANCASHIRE'S Police and Crime Commissioner Clive Grunshaw has awarded more than £80,000 of additional funding to four projects dedicated to reducing reoffending in the county and making communities safer.

Since launching the fund in 2018, the reducing reoffending fund has supported dozens of projects which work with ex-offenders and address the root causes of offending, through group work, one-to-one sessions and other support.

The Commissioner said: "Since launching the fund over two years ago, I have been really impressed with the quality of applications and the projects which have been making a real difference up and down the county, and the enthusiasm that we have seen to continue this work going forward.

"Policing alone cannot prevent people reoffending and that is why I continue to support initiatives that break the cycle offenders all too often find themselves trapped in, moving them away from a life of crime.

"I have seen firsthand the difference these projects make in our neighbourhoods and in the lives of the people who live there."

Residents urged to hold own litter-picking events to keep the town tidy!

WEST Lancashire residents are being urged to take pride in your community and organise a litter-picking event to help keep the towns tidy!

Keep Britain Tidy's Great British September Clean, which runs from September 11-27, encourages locals to organise their own litter-picking events.

It has been backed by MP Rosie Cooper and West Lancashire Borough Council.

With many Covid-19 restrictions still in place, a number of changes have been made by Keep Britain Tidy for this year's event.

You will be able to pledge to litter-pick for a chosen amount of time during the campaign through the council's Environmental Enforcement Team.

You can also organise and register an event through the team for yourself and up to five other people, in line with current government social distancing guidelines which are subject to change.

There will be no option to host or join the type of large public event hosted in the past.

Councillor Kev Wilkie, portfolio holder for Street Scene at the borough council, said: "Staying safe and alert is everyone's priority. Keep Britain Tidy has come up with a great plan to keep us all safe while enjoying a litter pick for our local community."

If you want to organise and register a spring clean event, then get in touch through the email: environmental.enforcement@westlancs.gov.uk - and they will arrange for you to have litter pickers and bin bags in addition to bag pick up points.

You will have to provide your own gloves. If you do organise an event please do not attempt to clean up fly-tipped waste.

Instead, please report this to the council

Locals are being urged to organise litter picking events online at www.westlancs.gov.uk/flytipping so they can come and investigate prior to clearing it up and perhaps find evidence that will help catch those responsible.

West Lancashire MP Rosie Cooper said: "We must all play our part and stop littering as well as increasing the understanding of the consequences of just 'throwing' our litter away and without thought for our areas and the impact on our environment."

"While it is dreadful that still there is so much litter on our streets, it is fantastic that so many people get out and take pride in their own area and want to clean it up."

"I would encourage as many residents as possible to get involved with local organisations who run their litter picks."

"If everyone also picked up just one piece of litter each day and disposed of in the nearest bin we could make a big impact on the local environment."

"Litter and recycling education in schools is expanding all the time so I look forward to seeing cleaner streets, parks and pathways here in West Lancashire."

Cancer charity issues desperate plea for support

MACMILLAN cancer charity leaders say it desperately needs the support of people in Lancashire more than ever, as new figures reveal an expected drop in income from its flagship coffee mornings.

Last year people across Lancashire raised £451,100 by taking part in a Macmillan Cancer Support Coffee Morning in September, to fund its vital services including Macmillan nurses and patient grants.

This year, figures show the number of people planning to hold a coffee morning across the Lancashire area has fallen by a staggering 73%, leading to the charity worrying there will be an equivalent fall in money raised.

The charity fears its supporters don't realise the event is still going ahead - albeit in a new virtual or socially distanced format - and is urging people to find out about the new ways to take part.

Jane Melvin, Macmillan's Head of Partnerships North and North West England, said: "A huge 98% of Macmillan's income is from donations and events like coffee morning. While Coffee Morning can't take place in exactly the same way as before this year, there are still lots of ways to get involved."

"We're facing the hardest year in our 109-year history. It's no exaggeration to say Macmillan and people with cancer have never needed the public's help more than we do right now."

Council leader to oppose lorry park

‘Government won’t dictate how our land is used or abused’ - Cllr Moran

Report by Tom Martin

TEMPORARY lorry parks to help cope with possible border trading problems following Brexit will be “vigorously opposed” by West Lancashire Borough Council.

The government has given itself powers to grant emergency planning permission for temporary lorry parks and inspection posts in 29 council areas across England, without the need for local approval.

Areas affected include Sefton, which is home to the Port of Liverpool, and also Lancashire.

The UK’s transition phase with the EU ends on December 31 and the Government wants to create lorry parks to ease growing fears that truck drivers will face long delays to enter the EU, or be turned away altogether.

Residents and local councils will have no say on the proposals.

But leader of West Lancashire Borough Council, Cllr Ian Moran, said he is against the plans and claimed “we have a problem with central government dictating how our land is used or abused.”

He said: “29 council areas are listed in the new regulations, including Lancashire. The very real possibility of massive delays in the transport of goods across the Irish Sea after the transition period makes our borough a target for these lorry parks, particularly the M58 corridor with its direct link to the superport in Sefton.

“Residents should be assured that as a council we will vigorously oppose the imposition of lorry parks in our area. The county of Kent is already becoming known as the Garage of England, instead of the

A lorry park in Kent and (above) Cllr Ian Moran

Garden of England, given the impending transport chaos there.

“We do not want something similar to happen in our area, and we will do all we can to stop plans, should the Government try to force this upon us. The better option for all is for the government to reach a deal with the EU which removes any need for massive lorry congestion, and all the environmental harm that this brings.

“When we undertook a full and democratic consultation over outline proposals for the development of some areas in the M58 corridor, it was clear that residents were opposed to it and they presented sound reasons why development should not proceed here.

“We had no problem with that, because that is how a proper planning process works. We do have a problem with central government dictating how our land is used or abused, without warning or consultation, and we will do our utmost to protect the interests of the area.”

Girls’ football team show their support for NHS

A GIRLS’ football team from Skelmersdale are showing their support for the NHS by wearing a special logo on their new kit.

JN Sports Blues girls under 11s have a new kit, sponsored by Puma, which shows a ‘Thank You NHS’ logo on the front of the shirt.

The team wanted to show some community spirit and show their appreciation to local health workers who have been working hard during the pandemic.

Even though a ‘rule of six’ has been introduced, sports teams are allowed to continue playing at grassroots level.

Brothers delighted to hold premiere of film at cinema

TWO brothers from Ormskirk held a movie premiere at the Plaza Cinema.

John and Matthew Reynolds, along with friend Conor O'Neil, are known as 'Some Guys with a Camera' and the three filmmakers recently released 'Blackbird'.

The short film was screened at the Waterloo venue on Monday, September 7 and the three friends were delighted to watch and then answer questions from the audience.

The film is set in Liverpool in 1985 and focuses upon nihilistic loner, Mary Kate as she turns to petty crime to climb the class ladder as an inner-city avenger.

Blackbird has been released to critical acclaim, including selection for the Buenos Aires International Film Festival as well as being finalists at the Flickfair Festival in June this year.

Before Blackbird, the three had taken part in a workshop at the Plaza Cinema to learn the basics of filmmaking, so they were delighted to return for the premiere.

John, 21, Matthew, 18, and Conor, 18, said: "We had an amazing screening in the terrific Plaza Community Cinema.

"Many thanks to the wonderful people at the Plaza who went out of their way to support this screening and for all those who helped make this film possible."

New campaign shows benefits of cycling after rise in popularity since lockdown

A NEW campaign aims to build on a surge in cycling in West Lancashire during lockdown by encouraging more people to join those who've already made a habit of using their bikes for short journeys.

Lancashire County Council's Switch to Cycling campaign highlights the stories of a number of people who started cycling over the summer as the coronavirus lockdown prompted them to discover the benefits of pedal power for convenience and exercise. The Switch to Cycling campaign includes an online one-stop-shop featuring advice and information for anyone looking to get out on their bike.

It includes help and incentives available to get your old bike fixed, get new gear, or find some practical training to get you started.

It will also direct you to online resources to help make the most of Lancashire's extensive network of off-road paths to enjoy the fresh air and avoid busy roads as much as possible. There's currently a real need for more people to use their bikes, or walk, for short journeys to reduce the potential for traffic problems due to restrictions on public transport.

More people cycling would help to avoid the potential for extra congestion if too many people make additional journeys by car, particularly now schools are back.

The children's ward staff from Ormskirk Hospital at the summit of Snowdon

Hospital staff take care of mountain charity challenge!

A KIND-HEARTED group of children's ward staff from Ormskirk Hospital have raised £3,476 by climbing the highest mountain in Wales.

The staff scaled the top of Mount Snowdon and even took a flag with the name of their hospital to display at the top!

Children's nurse and organiser Jess Healy said: "Last year we did a charity walk to raise money to revamp our playroom. We had some amazing painters create a jungle-themed mural and we want to invite them back to paint some other areas."

"We will also use the money to go towards resources and equipment to make a visit to A&E as pleasant as possible for our young patients."

"We are so passionate about and proud of the job we do, that we want our department to be the best it can be."

Trust Chief Executive Trish Armstrong-Child added: "What a fantastic team we have in our children's A&E. They are truly an inspirational bunch and have raised much-needed funds for the department."

A spokesperson for Southport and Ormskirk NHS Trust added: "Congratulations to all of the Paediatric A&E team, who completed their Snowdon climb. The money raised is being used to decorate the A&E rooms, once the building work is completed in the triage room, that will also be re-painted."

Any money spent on cycling and walking, is money well spent...

Following on from the recent letters of negativity surrounding the new Active Travel measures in Ormskirk.

Firstly, the idea that the cycle lane on St Helens Road was too short. Clearly, the intention was to provide a safe cycle route to Edge Hill University, which is why (I'm guessing) they closed off Ruff Lane too. This makes perfect sense to me, especially as 'Our West Lincs' have been pursuing a safe route along here for a number of years now, as your readers will be aware.

Secondly, regarding congestion, the St Helens Road/Moor Street junction is an Air Quality Management Area (i.e. it has dangerously high levels of air pollution at peak times).

Surely those shouting the loudest about congestion should be the ones shouting the loudest about providing long term solutions to reduce car usage in the town? Now the temporary lane has been removed, the congestion is still present. So now what?

Thirdly, the scheme was not funded from our council tax. This was misinformation. It was funded by the Department for Transport, as has every other similar scheme across England. But even if were funded through our council tax, let's say the scheme cost £50k, with c1m taxpayers in Lancashire, that works out at 5p per head. Considering how little has been spent on cycle and walking infrastructure historically, I would hardly say non-drivers are being lavished with infrastructure investment on a Dutch scale at the moment.

One only has to look at the decrepit state of the Cheshire Lines path, the canal towpaths (despite their popularity), the A59/A565 cycle lanes that start and end nowhere in particular, the lack of safe cycle routes between the three major towns, the derelict/overgrown cycle network of Skelmersdale, and the lack of safe pedestrian crossings where people need them the most.

Factor in the 1,800 deaths on our roads each year, dangerous driving/speeding, pavement parking, lack of police enforcement, noise pollution, national obesity and lack of decent public transport, I'd say any money spent on cycling and walking is money well spent on local communities and the environment in this present climate.

With 1,000 new homes currently under construction in Burscough, at the current rate, that's an extra 1,200 cars on our roads in the next five years. Is this really what people want? Because I certainly haven't been consulted about this, and I've no doubt many of your readers will be equally concerned about the negative impacts of this development too.

This isn't taking into account the pockets of new housing development in Skelmersdale and Banks, let alone the enormous plans for Maghull and north-east Sefton on the horizon.

In summary, perhaps now is a bad time to be criticising the government for investing in cycling and walking. If we had a choice between creating healthier, safer neighbourhoods for our children to grow up in, or congested, road-rage ridden areas of rat runs and Range Rovers, which one would you choose?

Scott Mitchelton,
Ormskirk

Bumps on Skem road surface are accidents just waiting to happen

I was very sad to read of the Burscough cyclist's accident on Tanhouse Road in Skelmersdale. As a keen local cyclist my thoughts go out to him and his family and I wish him a speedy recovery.

Although I don't know the cause of this accident, I believe there are some potentially dangerous issues on the road in that exact location.

As any local driver or cyclist will tell you, there are several bumps in the tarmac on Tanhouse Road. Coming on a downhill section of the road and being as sudden as a 'speed bump' but with no warning of their presence, they could easily catch out an unwary traveller.

Most hazards like potholes are at least usually visible in advance, but still dangerous. These bumps are not detectable until you go over one and could catch out even an experienced rider. Being such a rarely encountered feature on our roads, a speed bump with no warning signs, adds to the danger. A relaxed grip on the handlebars would be all it would take to make you lose control.

Last year the Council did a rather poor job of smoothing out two of these bumps on the section of Tanhouse Road by Enstone, so they must be aware of the problem.

I've been expecting that they might have carried on and repaired the rest of these dangerous defects. Perhaps now they will take some action?

Mark Titchener,
Skelmersdale

Non-mask wearers shame the nation

Whilst I remain in isolation since the outbreak of Covid-19, I am deeply concerned about people, in particular so-called responsible store owners, who continue to ignore and flout health and safety measures.

My volunteer entered a store in Up Holland recently where no protection was being worn by staff or managers, the new one-way aisle system was being ignored and customers were not wearing face coverings.

It is the responsibility of all staff and customers to ensure they are in adherence with new legal requirements.

In line with new laws set out by the Government, it is mandatory to wear a face covering to cover the nose and mouth when shopping in stores in England from 24th July.

I applaud those who are taking this crisis seriously and doing their part, but I condemn those who ignore safety measures and put vulnerable people such as myself at greater risk, putting more strain on the NHS.

You are a shame to the nation and to those who have unfortunately lost their lives.

J. Lloyd,
Up Holland

Well done Edge Hill

My 89-year-old mum has been living with us since the lock-down began all those months ago.

Since Edge Hill University opened their gates I've taken her a number of times in the car to have little walks through the grounds of the university site.

We have both been impressed with the wonderful architecture and beautiful planting across the whole campus.

Well done Edge Hill - you make me very proud to live in Ormskirk!

Kath Coyle,
Ormskirk

Keep off the green!

As the bowls season starts again, users of the bowling green at Aughton Village Hall find that the green has been damaged by youths playing football on it.

This is despite the fact that there is a huge area of grass adjacent for playing football.

The green is maintained at great cost by the Aughton ratepayers and surely someone could report the youths when they see them.

Damage has also been done to the seating around the green and there is constant litter.

Time these people were stopped.

Doug Elliot,
West Lincs

Parents can now apply for schools

School applications open for next year in West Lancashire

WEST Lancashire pupils may have only returned to the classroom, but online applications are now open for children starting school in September 2021.

The application process allows parents to request their child attends a particular primary or secondary school.

County Councillor Philippa Williamson, cabinet member for children, young people and schools, said: "The number of people who chose to apply online last year was really high.

"Online is a quick, easy and secure way to apply for school places. I would encourage parents to go online as soon as possible. I'm sure they will find it useful to familiarise themselves with the process and take a look at the admissions criteria of the schools they're considering.

"Unfortunately some applications come in late every year and these simply can't be considered at the same time as those we receive on time. So it is much better to be prepared early, rather than rushing your application close to the deadline. This way there is time to spare to sort out any problems or get any advice.

"It is important to remember as well that having a child already at a school does not automatically mean that a brother or sister will be allocated a place - you must still apply."

Applications opened on Tuesday, September 1 and the national closing dates are October 30, 2020 for secondary schools, and January 15, 2021 for primary schools.

Children start primary school in the September after their fourth birthday.

Online campaign to divert young people away from knife crime

By Danielle Thompson

Lancashire Police Temporary Assistant Chief Constable, Jo Edwards

MEMBERS of Lancashire Violence Reduction Network have launched a new social media campaign to reduce knife crime amongst young people.

Stories inspired by young people's real life experiences are used in the campaign to show the consequences of knife crime and how making positive decisions can change a young person's future and steer them away from knife crime involvement.

Joining a sports club, going to college, and pursuing a job or career idea can help steer a young person away from knife crime.

The slogan 'believe you can' refers to all of these opportunities that exist for young people to get involved in and make positive contributions to their community and wider society.

The campaign is part of the wider Lancashire Serious Violence Strategy which was developed by Lancashire Violence Reduction Network and sets out a multi-agency approach to tackle root causes of knife and violent crime in our communities.

Knife crime incidents remain knife crime and that the support is there to help them."

Detective Chief Superintendent Sue Clarke, head of the Lancashire Violence Reduction Network added: "Lancashire has fewer incidents of knife crime than other areas but let's not be complacent. One incident is one too many. Our campaign works to help young people to make positive decisions that will steer them away from knife crime and prevent them from becoming the knife crime perpetrators and victims of the future."

"We have worked with young people to create the campaign and to provide examples of how others who have previously been involved in knife crime have been able to step away. Parents, teachers, youth workers and other trusted adults are all important influences which is why we urge them to talk to young people."

"If you're a parent and you are concerned about your child please start the conversation. Talk to them about what's happening in their lives and how you can help or find support for them. There are resources on the #knifefree website to help."

The youth campaign is being run on Instagram and can be found by searching for: 'believe_you_can_lancashire'.

relatively low in Lancashire, accounting for 1% of all crimes in the county.

Lancashire Police Temporary Assistant Chief Constable, Jo Edwards said: "Tragically, we have seen the devastating consequences that knife crime can have on our communities."

"The Violence Reduction Network has provided a platform to bring partners together so that we can work closely with the people of Lancashire to understand the drivers behind serious violence."

"This campaign has been shaped with our neighbourhoods in mind and I hope that it will encourage individuals to believe they can stop, think and be confident to step away from

New vicar reveals how lockdown brought extra challenges to start of his tenure!

Report by Tom Martin

LOCKDOWN brought many changes to the people of Tarleton and Rufford - one of these being the arrival of a new vicar!

Father Mark Soady, from Wales, is settling into his new role as rector of St Mary's Rufford and Holy Trinity Tarleton, in what have been challenging times for the two parishes.

A former psychiatric nurse and social worker before joining the clergy, Fr Soady said: "It has been strange moving here from Wales during lockdown. I still do not really feel I have a full understanding of the locality after being here for six months."

"However, those people I have met have been very friendly and welcoming - the locals are very friendly indeed!

"Being unable to go into church to take services, I've been streaming them on Facebook. Over 300 people a week, sometimes as many as 500, log in to watch."

"I learnt a long time ago that at times of trouble, people instinctively turn to the church for help. People are certainly doing that at the moment."

Fr Soady, 59, has also launched a new parish website and Twitter account.

Father Mark Soady and (left) Holy Trinity church

As well as being rector, the clergyman works with nuns, monks and friars across England as Secretary of the Committee of Anglican Religious Communities in England.

Fr Soady is keen that the church remains relevant in current times. He added: "In my opening address to my parishioners, I asked them 'would the local community know the difference if the church was no longer here? I am not asking about the building and its role as a funeral and wedding venue - but do we, the church people, make a difference?'" hours but it is open for phone calls only, 01772 459020 Tuesday – Thursday 10am-2pm, no visitors. Lancashire Federation of Women's Institutes was founded in 1920.

This year would have been a celebratory year for Lancashire Federation of Women's Institutes with

There were lots of events planned for 2020, which have sadly had to be cancelled due to the pandemic.

Members have still been busy though, as they look to other means to stay in touch and hold meetings, such as Zoom.

Byng House on the market for £1.65m

Royal British Legion to sell off 'much loved break centre service'

Report by Danielle Thompson

THE Royal British Legion has put Byng House up for sale for offers of around £1,650,000.

The RBL instructed Colliers International's Hotels Agency team to sell four of its coastal break centre hotels individually – which includes Byng House on the Promenade – or all four for a combined guide price of £4.175 million.

Robert Smithson, Surveyor in Hotels Agency at Colliers International commented: "Southport became popular during the Victorian era and has retained many features from that time, which are especially noticeable along Lord Street, the main shopping area in the town. It is renowned for its beaches and often described as the 'Paris of the North' or the 'Jewel of the North West'."

Potential suitors are informed: "Tourism plays a major role in the town's economy and in recent years significant investment has been made in the town's infrastructure including new sea defences, the promenade and tourist attractions. Apart from the seaside, visitor attractions include the Southport Flower Show, the Air Show, the Jazz Festival and the town's nightlife, as well as bird watching or walking and cycling on Sefton's natural coast."

"Southport is also known as England's golfing capital with easy access to six championship-standard golf courses including the world famous Royal

Byng House

Birkdale, Hesketh, Hillside, Southport and Ainsdale, Formby Hall, and the West Lancashire Golf Club.

"The popular tourist resort is situated on the coast of the North West and is easily connected to other centres through the motorway network, so would do well from a trading perspective."

The Champion reported in January how veterans had reacted with 'dismay and horror' to the news that the Royal British Legion was set to close, holding a peaceful protest outside.

Byng House was opened 10 years ago and has been a destination for members of the armed forces community who are lonely, have combat stress, are in hard times financially, or even terminally ill.

The move to close Byng House led to widespread anger among veterans and the resort's MP Damien Moore. A petition was launched in a doomed bid to save it.

Bridge repairs to close road for three weeks

A RURAL road between Burscough and Mawdesley is due to be closed for three weeks for essential maintenance to a bridge.

Wanes Blades Road and Mains Lane will not be available as a through-route while work takes place to Wanes Blades Bridge where the two roads meet.

The closure is due to be in place from Monday, September 28 to Sunday, October 18 for all road users including pedestrians and cyclists. The bridge which carries the road over the River Douglas was originally built in 1939, and work is needed to repair concrete supports at either end of the bridge, and paint metal parts to protect against corrosion.

The repair project will take place over nine weeks from September 14 to November 13, however engineers are able to carry out most of the work without closing it to traffic. While the closure is in place advanced signs will divert traffic before it reaches the bridge, with a route suitable for all vehicles including HGVs to be signed via Parbold, Newburgh, Ring O'Bells and Hoscarr.

A shorter diversion for all vehicles is not possible as many of the roads around Wanes Blades Bridge have other bridges with weight or height restrictions on them.

A community with a zest for later life

An apartment at The Sailings in Southport is far more than just a new home. Our community offers a range of 1, 2 and 3-bedroom apartments in a safe, secure and happy environment, with a circle of friends right on your doorstep.

In uncertain times, that's more important than ever. Many of our Homeowners have told us how much it helps to have such a strong sense of community and a friendly management team on-site 24/7 365 days a year to provide advice, assistance and moral support.

Have more fun, make more friends

Enjoy the best of both worlds: a beautiful, self-contained apartment of your own; and a thriving community offering new friendships, social occasions and safe activities on your doorstep that you can dip into whenever you want to.

Enjoy relaxing in the Homeowners' lounge, hair salon or therapy suite, or dine in the table service restaurant, with freshly prepared dishes every day.

"It's better for both of us here. I can go cycling. Jean can walk to the shops and there are plenty of people here who she can talk to. We've made friends already. We should have moved years ago." John and Jean Geddes, The Sailings in Southport

Less maintenance, more 'me time'

When the maintenance of your house and garden become a full-time job, you can find yourself lacking the time and energy to do anything else.

Jean Geddes continues "We had a big garden and I was doing everything. I was out all afternoon and half the night. I didn't want to be tied to the house. I wanted to go out and do things."

At The Sailings you no longer have to worry about maintenance or mowing, leaving you to enjoy doing more of the things you love.

Safety and security

One of the aspects that appeals to many Homeowners is that we can help create tailored personal care packages to suit individuals' needs. Be it short-term support after an operation, or more regular, long-term personal care. Together with our local care partner, we ensure a flexible solution to suit you.

During the UK lockdown, our team members shopped for our Homeowners, collected prescriptions and created 'pop-up shops' to provide a safe and easy way to pick up everyday essentials.

"I was shielding so I couldn't go to the shops or anything but I've been having meals delivered to my apartment from the restaurant. They've done it very well." Edna Giddens, The Sailings in Southport

Pets are welcome too

We know that animals are often part of the family, so we're always happy to welcome well-behaved pets at The Sailings.

Award-winning approach

Three of our communities have won Gold, Silver and Bronze Awards for the Best Retirement Development in the UK, at the WhatHouse? Awards. The judges recognised our unique approach to independent living, praising the fact that Homeowners don't have to compromise on their independence, privacy and social life.

With all the time in the world, a lively social calendar, the company of friendly people and the reassurance of support when you need it, you can truly live life your way at The Sailings in Southport.

Late free-kick secures cup win for Skem

Congleton Town 1
Skelmersdale United 2

SKELMERSDALE United's superb FA Cup run continued on Saturday after a comeback win at Congleton Town in the preliminary round, writes Simon Driscoll.

United came from behind to secure a place in the First Qualifying round thanks to goals from Emini Adegbenro and a late free-kick from Daniel Murphy.

United started the brighter of the two sides with an in-swinging cross from Callum Preston finding Joe Herbert who hit narrowly past the post on three minutes.

The hosts opened the scoring when a mazy run down the wing from Bott saw him cross low and in the scramble, Johns slotted past Barnes for 1-0.

Skem equalised when ex-Bears forward Emini Adegbenro advanced on goal and fired past Parton for 1-1 with five minutes left of the first half.

The sides went into the break level but United quickly resumed their threat within three minutes of the restart with a long aerial pass from Peet well defended by Town before Parton saved an angled cross from Preston.

As the game entered the final ten minutes, Adegbenro broke clear and with just Parton to beat he was taken out by the chasing Ryder who was dismissed by the referee.

United have a recent history of scoring from free-kicks in this competition though and as Murphy stepped up, he stunned all in attendance with a thunderous strike which nestled in the bottom corner past Parton for 2-1.

Skem's reward for this victory is a home draw against Bootle in the next round on Tuesday, September 22.

Linnets set for FA Vase clash

BURSCOUGH and Skem United will be in FA Vase action this Saturday.

Skem will entertain Stockport Town at The JMO Sports Centre but Burscough have had to switch their home tie against Hallam.

It has been moved to to the western outskirts of Sheffield and Hallam's Sandygate Road ground.

The game will be an interesting day for those travelling, especially as the ground is one of the oldest in football, as are Hallam who were founded back in 1860.

The match will be decided on the day, but Burscough fans need to take note that no tickets will be on sale on the day and all tickets must be purchased by visiting the Hallam website: hallamfc.co.uk

Entrance for fans at Skelmersdale on Saturday will be much easier, though being there early because of the regulations is advised.

Sorry, Elon - but this year's most 'on trend' motors are not electric!

For now, oomph comes from being clever with unleaded

SORRY, Elon. The most on-trend motors of the year are both flyweight two-seaters – and neither of them are electric. Electric car evangelists might want to flick through to The Champion's sports pages, but a survey carried out by the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders showed that 44% of Britain's motorists can't see themselves owning a zero-emissions car any time soon.

This makes Maserati's new MC20 very much of the moment. Sure, it's been designed with electric power in mind, but for now the oomph from this new mid-engined supercar comes from being clever with good old unleaded.

A decade or so ago if you wanted 630bhp you'd turn to a big V12 or a V8, but the Italians have opted instead for a V6 half the size, and strapped on a couple of turbochargers for good measure.

Coupled with carbonfibre construction, Maserati claims it's got the best power-to-weight ratio in its class, which will help to keep the emissions down to EU-pleasing levels and save you a few quid at the pumps. It's got nothing to do with aiding a 0-60mph time of 2.9 seconds. Or helping it to exceed 200mph. Honestly.

But should you not be convinced by an Italian supercar with scissor doors and two turbochargers, how about a big 4x4 instead?

Only the Suzuki Jimny isn't really a big 4x4 – it's just about the most petite mud-plugger there is, with a 1.5-litre engine deploying just 100bhp across all four wheels. Even so, increasingly mean emissions regulations meant that Suzuki had to think fast to avoid axing it from its showrooms. Now it's back, but rather than repeat what they've done with the Swift and equip it with a hybrid petrol-electric system, it's simply ditched the off-roader's back seats.

Et voila – the Jimny is now a commercial vehicle!

Never mind that even with the rear chairs removed it's got less room to lug things about than a Ford Fiesta Van does, but think of it as a Land Rover Defender Hard Top that shrunk in the wash, and you'll start understand its appeal.

Then again, while a Ford Fiesta van can haul a 500kg payload to your mate's warehouse, it won't be able to lug 350kg to your mate's log cabin at the bottom of a boggy field – and for that, virtually nothing else is going to roll up its sleeves up for the money.

Speaking of which, Suzuki hasn't confirmed the Jimny Commercial's price yet, but expect to somewhere around the £15-20k if its four-seater cousin's anything to go by. Officially, its makers say it's catering for professionals who need a really cheap van that can go off-road, but let's not beat about the bush – it's so it can keep the Jimny, a thoroughly likeable little car that's been dogged by emissions regulations, in the showrooms.

So it's a two-seater that weighs about as much as a shoe and uses a relatively puny petrol engine – rather than electricity – to achieve great things. A bit like a Maserati MC20, in fact.

David Simister is the editor of Classic Car Weekly

The Maserati MC20 has a V6 engine, but has also been designed with electric power in mind
